The image shows a musical score for a C Sharp scale on a treble clef staff. The scale is written in a single line with a treble clef and a sharp sign (F#) indicating the key signature. The notes are D, E, F#, G, A, and B. Each note is accompanied by a finger number (1-5) and a slur. Below the staff, there are two rows of circles representing hand positions: the top row for the left hand and the bottom row for the right hand. The left hand circles are numbered 1-5, and the right hand circles are numbered 1-5. A vertical dashed line labeled 'Shake of D' is positioned under the first note. Below the circles, the letters D, E, F, G, A, and B are printed, corresponding to the notes on the staff.
